

RNCB (CRRN) Examination Retake Policy:

If you fail the CRRN examination, you can reapply to take the examination during the next testing window. If you tested in June, it will be December. If you tested in December, it will be June of the following year. The reapplication process includes submitting an updated application with signatures and paying the examination fees. There is no limit to the number of times you may take the CRRN examination.